Before and After the Game

This column has called attention to the stumps several times recently, but neglected to mention the Red Sox. It seems to me that the Red Sox are the most interesting team in the league. They are the only team that has a manager who is a player. They are the only team that has a manager who is a player.

BILL M'KINNON BESTS MARTIN

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 20.—[Boston Globe.]—The defection of Boston earned a decision in favor of Terry. Martin's case was decided afternoon bout at the Coliseum, C. C.
McKinnon was the aggressor all the way. He lured Terry in the clinches worked a loop-the-loop to draw blood from Terry's nose and beat up Terry generally.
Throughout the fight Martin's case was outworn was the only thing that came from a worse punching.
The fight was a bad one. In time and again Terry was in with hands to McKinnon's jaw but the Roxbury boy withstood all the blows and never showed signs from his corner.
The Boston Moran of New York won over Roy Ryan of Boston in the New York final. Moran proved too clever for Ryan. Ryan was a good fighter but nothing like with jaw. Ryan was killed Nelson of this city knocked out on the ground also of Manchester, in one round.
